

DESIGNED BY CAROLINE DAVY

The design was inspired by a small formal garden where division of space needs to be implied rather than imposed. The space is simple and ordered yet full of drama and fun. It is enclosed without being fortified and practical without being dull.

The theatre takes its inspiration from traditional elements that have stood the test of time and provide the basis of our gardens today: formal geometry, pattern and enclosure provide balance and cohesion and colour has special importance.

The design uses chunky retro-inspired materials with dark, rich timber and vibrant colour for contrast. The planting is bold with sculptural and textural qualities being as important as colour and variety.

CAROLINE DAVY - DESIGNER

Caroline's gardens fuse contemporary ideas with traditional elements, evolving through analysis of the site, reference to the architecture and interpretation of the owner's requirements.

A passion for art and training in both horticulture and floristry underpins garden design that looks good, grows well and is appropriate and personal.
